- I have not been a member of VRMA for the past 3 years, am I eligible to run?
 - No, only candidates who have been a member of VRMA for the past 3 years may apply
- I have not attended any VRMA conferences in the last 3 years, am I eligible to run?
 - No, to be considered for election, candidates must have attended at least three (3) conferences, including at least one International (formerly known as National) conference in the past three years
- I am relatively new to the field, am I eligible to run?
 - As long as you meet the membership and event requirement, you are eligible!
- Another person in my company is interested in applying for a board position. Are we both allowed to submit applications?
 - Only one member per company is permitted to run for a board seat. Ultimately, the LDC will defer to both applicants as to whose application should be considered. It's best to make that decision beforehand and have only one individual submit an application
- What is the role of the Leadership Development Committee?
 - The Leadership Development Committee reviews, vets, and selects the slate of recommended candidates for the election. The LDC will recommend one candidate per open board seat.
- If I am not recommended by the Leadership Development Committee, may I still be included in the election?
 - Yes, you may choose to still run even if not recommended by the LDC
